

PURPOSE TO PROBE
TAMPICO INCIDENT

REFUSAL OF MEXICAN FEDERALS TO SALUTE FLAG CAUSES STIR AT WASHINGTON.

SITUATION VERY TENSE

Cabinet Meeting Held Today at Which Close Attention is Given to Latest Mexican Complication.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Washington, April 14.—After conference between President Wilson, Secretary Bryan and John Lind, and after a cabinet meeting, it was decided that before the Washington government went further in backing up the demand of Rear Admiral Mayo for a salute to the American flag at Tampico, as an apology for the arrest of American marines, a further investigation would be made into the facts surrounding the incident. All officials were silent on the situation which was admittedly a tense one. They let it be known, however, that the delay did not indicate a disposition to change President Wilson's attitude, but to afford an opportunity to investigate fully the facts of the case. The administration was to be fully and completely informed before proceeding further.

Several Days' Delay.
Officials pointed out that the difficulty of communication between Washington and Tampico might put off final determination, probably two or three days.

President Wilson's conference, with Lind and Secretary Bryan came immediately before the cabinet meeting. At the conference, it is understood, recent events in Mexico, especially the Tampico incident, were carefully discussed, and Mr. Lind was able to supplement the reports he has made from time to time in the general situation with specific details.

Refuse to Salute.
Late dispatches from Vera Cruz quoting General Gustavo, the federal commander at Vera Cruz, said the Mexican government had ordered General Morelos Zaragoza not to salute the American flag in apology for the arrest of the American marines on the ground that it was unequal for the stars and stripes, were regarded in administration circles with considerable interest today.

Fleet to Concentrate.
A general concentration of the Atlantic fleet at Tampico was ordered. Secretary Daniels, after a cabinet meeting in which President Wilson laid before the cabinet the necessity for making up a demand of Rear Admiral Mayo that the American flag be saluted by the Huerta command, said that the American fleet at Tampico, at the battleship South Carolina, enroute from San Domingo, had been intercepted by wireless and had been ordered to return to Tampico. The Tampico boats at Pensacola, Florida, have been notified to be ready to join the battleships at Tampico on notice.

Discussed Plans.
The cabinet discussed the situation at the White House meeting and the consensus of opinion was that Washington should insist on a salute. After the meeting Secretary Daniels hurried to the naval department where he prepared a number of naval orders. President Wilson conferred with Secretary Daniels and reports were that after in a day a statement would be made to cover the demand.

Bryan to Remain.
Secretary Bryan had made all arrangements to leave tonight for Miami, Florida, for a few days rest but development in the Mexican situation however, forced a change in his plans and today he cancelled his traveling reservations.

No Ultimatum.
Officials said that while no ultimatum had been issued to the Huerta government, the mobilization of the fleet at Tampico was intended to put the United States in a position to enforce one should the immediate development make it necessary.

Admiral Badger has under his command at Hampton Roads the battleships Arkansas, Louisiana, Michigan, Vermont and New Hampshire. In addition to those the battleships Georgia, Virginia, Nebraska and Rhode Island now at the Atlantic coast navy yards in reserve may be a part of Badger's command.

WOMAN DENIES GUILT
OF MURDER CHARGES

Mrs. Bradford Scudder Pleads Not Guilty To Charge of Murdering Brother-in-Law.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Taunton, Mass., April 14.—Mrs. C. Bradford Scudder, wife of the secretary of the Massachusetts fish and game association, pleaded not guilty to the murder yesterday of Edgar Scudder, her brother-in-law. The date for examination is Friday. Mrs. Scudder, after the shooting, according to the police, said, "she was unable to have any privacy and that her brother-in-law lived in the house where she did and was always poking around."

The woman's husband expressed the opinion today that his wife was temporarily insane.

Chicago, April 14.—Jack Johnson, negro heavyweight pugilist, today was granted a new trial on the Mann act charge under which he was sentenced to a year in the penitentiary and on appeal decision of the lower court on certain counts in the Johnson indictment.

DISCUSS DISTRIBUTION
AT FARMERS' CONFERENCE
HELD AT CHICAGO TODAY

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Chicago, April 14.—To discuss the problems connected with bringing about more businesslike distribution of farm products and an easier way for farmers to obtain money in sufficient quantities for their individual and collective business arrangements, a three-day session of the Western Farmers' association and the National Conference of Marketing and Farm Credits opened here today.

FIND ARMY OFFICER
GUILTY OF CHARGES

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Washington, April 14.—Major Benjamin M. Koehler of the coast artillery, tried by the general court martial last month at Fort Terry, New York, was found guilty of immoral conduct and sentenced to dismissal from the army.

This announcement was made today by Secretary Garrison, who said the case had not yet been taken up on by war department officials. It is subject to review by Judge Advocate General Crowder and chief of staff of the army as well as Secretary Garrison before it goes to President Wilson, who has final jurisdiction.

ORDERS THAW CASE
TO SUPREME COURT

Federal Judge at Concord Grants Petition With a Proviso Which Means Eight Months' Delay.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Concord, N. H., April 14.—Henry Kendall Thaw was petitioner for a writ of habeas corpus which was granted by Judge Edgar Alger of the United States district court today. The court said, however, that no order would be issued for the prisoner's discharge from custody until an arrangement has been completed to the satisfaction of the United States supreme court on appeal.

Gives Lengthy Decision.
The case is a novel one, according to the court in a very lengthy decision, and requires the utmost caution as the power of extraordinary and imposes itself on personal liberty. Never before, either in this country or in England, has the extradition power been invoked for return of a person fleeing from custody based upon such a condition as insanity and such escape as flight.

Means Long Delay.
Washington, April 14.—Only by extraordinary steps can Thaw's case be considered by the supreme court before next October, as the court plans to suspend hearing of all cases on Friday, April 24th, and will hear no more until October unless an exception is made. That probably would mean that Thaw must remain in custody at least until October. Those best posted on supreme court findings predict it may be Christmas before the supreme court passes upon the case finally.

CHARITON CASE PARALLEL
VETERAN OBSERVERS OF THE SUPREME COURT PROCEDURE WHO LOOK FOR A PRECEDENT TODAY, THOUGHT THE PORTER CHARITON CASE, IN WHICH ONE PARALLEL, EVEN SO, THEY DID NOT CONSIDER THE CASES WERE MUCH ALIKE.

In the Chariton case, however, the supreme court held there was no right to inquire into the sanity of the prisoner in extradition proceedings. It was pointed out, however, that the Thaw case took on some of its aspects.

BRIDGE DEDICATED TO TITANIC HERO

Two Years Ago Today Titanic, With Nearly Fifteen Hundred People, Sank in Ocean.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Augusta, Ga., April 14.—Two years to the day from the ill-fated night on which the Titanic carried to the bottom of the Atlantic in her giant hull with 1,490 souls, citizens of Augusta today dedicated a bridge in memory of Major Archibald Butt, who went down in that catastrophe to a hero's grave. An elaborate bridge in memory of Major Butt, formerly aide to the president, was formally dedicated here today in ceremonies. Former President Taft, to whom "Archibald" was a dear friend as well as a protector, was present and added a few words of appreciation of the Georgian's character. Hundreds of prominent people from all over the country attended. Temple Noyes, Lodge of Washington, of which organization Major Butt was a member, attended in a body. The bridge dedicated to Major Butt was built partly by private subscription and partly by the ladies of Georgia who conceived the plan and carried it into effect. The city had appropriated for a simple, plain structure. The ladies of the state formed a memorial association and raised nearly $20,000, which has been expended in statues, memorial tablets and decorations for the structure. The dedication exercises began at 2 o'clock and were in charge of the state society.

CASES OF LABOR LEADERS
CONFERRED OF CONSPIRACY
DEFERRED BY APPEAL COURT

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Chicago, April 14.—No action was taken today in the United States court of appeals in the cases of the fifty-four labor leaders who were convicted in Indianapolis on conspiracy to transport dynamite. Six petitions for a rehearing are on file. The court will probably rule on the petitions before the close of the April term.

La Crosse, April 14.—Fire in the village of West Salem today destroyed the Steamform flour and feed mill with a loss of $50,000. Other property was seriously threatened.

PITTSBURGH MINERS
AWAIT AGREEMENT

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Pittsburgh, Pa., April 14.—Forty-five thousand miners in the mining district are idle today because of the vote being taken for the approval or disapproval of the tentative agreement entered into between district officers and coal operators. If the agreement is again enforced it will continue again for two years, the same period as before. No time was set today when the vote would be counted and the result known, but it was stated that little work would be done in any of the mines of the remainder of this week.

CONGREGATIONAL WOMEN
DISCUSS HOME MISSIONS
AT MADISON CONFERENCE

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., April 14.—The annual meeting of the Wisconsin Women's Home Missionary union (Congregational) began here this afternoon with Mrs. John Mayville of Appleton leading the opening service. Reports of district secretaries were made, for the Beloit convention by Mrs. E. Cass; Eau Claire convention by Miss Abby Felt; La Crosse convention by Mrs. Lewis Dudley, and Lemons convention by Mrs. George M. Hill. Mrs. G. R. Clements of Madison discussed the possibilities of the missionary story. Rev. O. L. Robinson, secretary of the Sunday school department for the state, spoke on "The challenge of the child." Three missionaries—Miss Adeline Woodberry of New York, Miss Annie How of Japan and Mrs. Myrtle Foote of Turkey—spoke at a children's meeting.

Rev. O. H. Beale of Milwaukee will give an evening thought on "The missionary Enterprise and the New Social Order," and Miss Woodberry will speak on "Immigration and the Congregational Responsibility." This is a joint meeting of the Wisconsin branch of the Woman's Home Missionary union and the Wisconsin branch of the Woman's Board of Missions of the Interior.

PROFIT IN HOG RAISING
FOR SOUTHERN FARMERS

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Washington, April 14.—The southern states at one time years ago raised hogs in large numbers and cured practically all the present supply necessary to feed the people of that section. At this time that cannot be said of a single southern state and of but few individual counties in that part of the United States. There is one county of Georgia, though, that is showing the south what can be done in the hog raising line. Brooks county holds the distinction of raising and selling more bacon than any other county in Georgia. Last year sold last year nearly $100,000 worth of bacon. What is being done in Brooks county is believed, according to a bulletin issued by the department of agriculture today, could be done in every county of the south. This would put the farmers on a better financial footing because they would not be dependent upon cotton as their sole cash crop.

EMBASSY OFFICES IN LONDON OF AMERICANS

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
London, April 14.—Walter H. Page, United States ambassador, was notified today that the rent of offices in Victoria street, which the American Embassy has occupied for nearly thirty years, is to be raised to more than three times its present figure when the lease expires this fall.

The United States government has held the premises for years on a yearly lease. Rent of neighboring offices have been raised many times. The possibility of a building suitable for both embassy offices and the ambassador's residence is being discussed here.

WIFE MURDERER IS GIVEN LIFE TERM

Robert Higgins Saved From Gallows By Plea of Attorney and Being a Model Prisoner.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Galesburg, Ill., April 14.—Robert Higgins today was sentenced to life imprisonment in the state penitentiary by Judge Olmstead in Mercer county circuit court. Julia Fluke, Higgins' stepdaughter, for the love of whom Higgins killed his wife, has not been tried for her part in the crime. Judge Olmstead encouraged Higgins to hope for a pardon later. Higgins' crime merited death, said Judge Olmstead in pronouncing sentence for the wife murderer, but his life was spared to him because of his good behavior as a prisoner and because of the plea of the state attorney.

You may make partial expiation of the dreadful sin you have committed by being a model prisoner in the penitentiary," said Judge Olmstead. "It may be that you can cling to the hope that in later years you may deserve and receive a pardon and have years of freedom in which to redeem your past."

Julia Fluke was not brought here for the trial from the girls' school, of which she is an inmate. States attorney said she would not be given a hearing at this term of court. He declined to state at which time her case would be considered. On account of the extreme youth of the girl and the sensational nature of the case, States Attorney Wilson intimated he would be in favor of putting off her trial indefinitely.

REBELLION SPREADS
TO SOUTHERN CHINA

Regular Troops at Siam Fu Believed to be in League With White Wolf.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
London, April 14.—A formidable revolutionary movement has been launched in Southern China according to dispatches from Shanghai today. The regular troops at Siam Fu, capital of the Shan Si province, are said to have mutinied and are believed to be in league with the northern brigand White Wolf. The rebellion, however, centers at Nan Kiang where there is unrest among the populace and feverish excitement among the official classes.

BOSTON APARTMENT
FIRE COST SEVEN
LIVES EARLY TODAY

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Boston, April 14.—Seven lives were lost in a fire which destroyed the Melvin, a five-story brick apartment house at Commonwealth and Long avenues in the Alston district early today. It was feared that one other occupant of the building, who was missing several hours after the fire, also had been burned. The dead are: Mr. and Mrs. J. Raymond Powers and their two years old baby boy; Mrs. Alice Shuckford; Mrs. Edith Bemis; a young woman about seventeen years old, probably Mrs. Powers' maid; an unidentified woman; and many others among the 125 persons living in the house had a narrow escape and several were painfully burned. The loss was $60,000.

Mrs. Bemis' sister, Mrs. F. C. DeHorrell, and Miss Ellen Hazel are still missing. The unidentified body may be one of them. Mrs. Shuckford and Mrs. Bemis met death by jumping, one from the fourth floor and the other from the fifth floor. The bodies of the other victims were found on the fifth floor two hours after the fire.

The fire started down in the basement in a waste paper chute and the flames shot rapidly up the chute and the elevator well.

The whole building was aflame before the firemen arrived. Miss May Boyde, living next door, was the first one to see the fire, while another neighbor rang in the alarm. Miss Boyde rushed into the burning building and rang a bell in all the suites. The occupants were quickly aroused. Many were able to escape by the stairs and many others used the fire escapes in the rear until the flames made this impossible. The firemen carried a number of men and women down ladders, and several persons jumped from upper floors into the net.

Trapped on the fourth floor Mrs. Clement R. Rodgers and Mrs. Adams hastily fashioned ropes from bed clothing and let themselves down to the ground. No one had time to dress and there was considerable suffering from exposure in the chilled air of the morning. Many of them found shelter in nearby apartment houses.

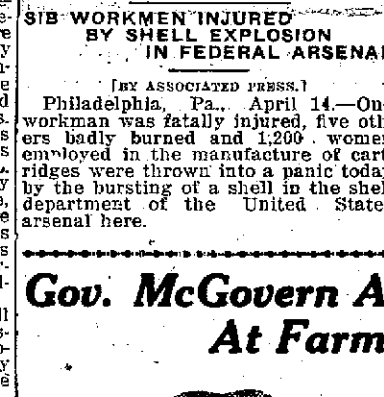

The state police later in the day began an investigation in an effort to find the cause of the fire.

Revised figures on the fire given out this afternoon indicate that in addition to the seven deaths, sixteen were seriously injured. All families homeless and 75 persons endangered by the fire that wrecked the Melvin, a five-story brick apartment house. The apartment consisted of small kitchenettes and the occupants were trapped as the flames raced through each story. Men, women, and children, standing on window ledges, screamed for help when the firemen arrived. They reached the ground by crawling along narrow ledges to fire escapes. Others managed to reach small balconies on the front of the house, from which they were taken down on fire ladders.

It was not until hours after the blaze had been extinguished that the casualty list could be made up.

Dog Stolen: Complaint was made to the police that a valuable bull dog had been stolen from John Hartow, residing on North Washington street, yesterday.

PETEY CAN STAND IRA IF THERE'S A BALL GAME IN IT.

BASEBALL LID OFF FOR COMING SEASON IN MAJOR LEAGUES

National Pastime Again Comes in for Annual Crowning As King of Sports in Big Circuit.

Today was the coronation of King Baseball and the annual ceremony crowned the same old thrill in the eight different cities where the majors opened for the season pennant race. From now on baseball will have clear sailing in the world of sports, and the opening of the big circuit after one of the wildest winters of winter league baseball.

In the American league the world's champion Athletics opened their first battle of the year with Frank Chance's rejuvenated Yankees in New York. The Cleveland Naps clashed with the White Sox at Chicago; the St. Louis Browns and Detroit Tigers opened in Detroit, and Clark Griffith led his Washington team against the Red Sox in Boston. The National league swung into its race with the Giants at Philadelphia, the Chicago Cubs hurling themselves upon the Reds at Cincinnati, Pittsburgh at St. Louis, and Boston and Brooklyn clashing at Ebbots Field, across the bridge.

In the National league affairs have been stirred up over the Evers deal, his being fired and Hank O'Day being appointed his successor; Wilbert Robinson, former Giant coach, stepping into the manager's berth at Brooklyn, and Charlie Herzog, former third sacker for the Giants, managing the Reds. This year's training trip has been notable because few of the managers have uncared recruits that they wish to stick with the fact company for any length of time, only that the majors are hanging on to a bunch of likely timber to keep the outlaw Federal league from grabbing off the promising players when released back to the minors.

Everything points to the Athletics sweeping through the American league, for the old guard is still intact and having a couple of capable recruits to help out the veterans. McGraw has as powerful a team as last year, but the other clubs in the National are noticeably weak, the Reds either having stolen a few of their stars or they have failed to uncover material to plug holes caused by veterans going back.

The hope of the Chicago fans is the White Sox. Callahan has a promising bunch, and if a good streak can be found on the square, or a couple of regulars develop a batting streak of whaling out three hundred averages, they look good to give the Mackmen a push for the rag. Their hurling staff is far superior to last year's, and if Ed Walsh shows the "goods" with Russell, Scott, Cicotte, Berz, Lathrop and Jasper, a likely recruit, the White Stockings have the pitching department well filled. Their success depends greatly upon the form of the Big Moose, for if Walsh shows his old time form the Chicago Americans will make a hot race for the world series proceeds.

The rest of the nine is better, for Schalk has improved in the backstop job with more experience, and the infield will be made up of Chase at first; Weaver, short; Blackburne or Berger, second; Captain Lord, third; Chappell, Bodie, Collins and Fomier. Blackburne will make his second attempt to hold down the key-stone sock for the Sox, and from his performance with the Milwaukee Brewers last year looks good to stick, and with his fielding ability should make one of the best infields in the champion circuit. Weaver has proven one of the classiest shortstops in the league with league coaching and is ripe to show the others some nifty fielding averages during the long stretch. Lord and Chase, two veterans and good stick-ers, are in prime condition, and Chase should better his records of previous years, having less club trouble to contend with.

The Cubs look to be in a bad way. Their pitching staff was none too strong last year and O'Day has yet to show where he has any finds that can stand the pace. His infield is shattered by the loss of Evers, and Tommy Leach, who has a few years more of baseball under his hat, has been drawn from the outfield to hold down third base, and Zimmerman will try his luck at short to fill Tricker's shoes, while Sweeney, former Dodger player, will be tried at second in place of the peerless Evers. Sair will hold down the initial sack and is proving to be a dependable player and one of the stars of the league. In the outfield Schulte is the only one left of the old pennant winning machine, while the rest of the outer garden will be graced by Good and Johnson, who will have to show their real worth. Cheney is back into form and is the hope of the club. Lavender, it is hoped, will spring another sensational season, and these two with Pierce Humphries will have to bear the brunt of the work.

JACK JOHNSON CASE IS AGAIN IN COURT

Chicago, April 14.—By the decision of the case of Jack Johnson in the lower court for a sentence on one of the counts with which Johnson is charged with transportation from Pittsburgh to Chicago of Bell Schriever, wife of the woman, on the part of the commercialized vice clause of the Mann act, a recall is ordered as the defendant's counsel contends that Johnson has not been shown to be guilty of trafficking in vice. According to decision by Attorney Wilkerson, the situation of Johnson's bond is unchanged. Date for a retrial will be set in the federal court here thirty days from today and the pugilist must be present on the trial date or forfeit his bonds.

The attorneys for Johnson were elated when the opinion was announced. "It is a victory for Jack," he said, "and as I read the law Johnson cannot be sentenced to a year of imprisonment. The punishment must be a fine. And on the commercialized vice question there is no evidence to offer."

The district attorney declined to make a flat statement on the question of a new sentence, but is quoted as saying "It will be settled that if one of the counts of an indictment is held good, the punishment must be the same as though more had also been sustained."

Sport Snap Shots

Ed Walsh says that the talk about the spitball being harmful to a pitcher's arm is all rot. If Ed had a bad season last year it was because he wasn't in good shape and not that his arm was weakening. "The spitball, as a matter of fact," says Ed,

"is easier on the arm than the average curve ball and there is no truth in the rumor that my arm has suffered as a result of it. The spitball can be thrown without the strain on the muscles that other curves seem to require and it is in every way much easier. Moreover, it's a wonderful curve and while hard to master, it's well worth the effort. I learned to throw it in the early 1890's, when I tried out for the White Sox at Marlin Springs. There was another recruit there that I was palting around with and while there have been many stories about the origin of the spitter I really believe that he was the first man to throw it. His name was Elmer Stricklett. When I saw how Stricklett did it I tried it myself. And I put in a whole lot of time getting the hang of it. You know, I've always thought that the spitter was not really appreciated and I would like to pitch it against a team of the star batters of both leagues. That is to say, of course, when I feel that I am right. When my spitter is behaving there's nothing to it. They can't get near it. It's a wonderful ball."

Miller and Wilson who went to the Cardinals in the Pirate deal, are showing the habits of St. Louis. What big league ball seems like. In the inter-city series between the Browns and the Cards Miller and Wilson did all the hitting. And the Cardinals had the edge on the Browns as a result.

Ray Chapman, the Naps' crippled shortstop, is the champ candy eater of the big leagues. In two weeks time in the hospital Chappie got away with about seventeen pound boxes of chocolates and bon bons, as they say. He hits an average of over a pound a day, and Charlie Somers, the Nap owner, as well as Chapman's teammates, see that he

DECIDE TO PURCHASE WASTE PAPER CANS

CLUB IS ENTHUSIASTIC

Chester W. Collmann, Field Organizer for Wisconsin University Extension Work, Gives Talk.

The city of Janesville is to have public waste cans on the corners of the business blocks within a few weeks. This good news came as the result of a motion which was carried unanimously at the meeting yesterday afternoon of the Janesville Civic Club in the assembly room of the city hall. Only fifty women of the city, but membership of two hundred and forty were present, but despite this small number, the session was marked with decided success.

It was thought of in the time of the late Mayor Taylor gave his lecture in this city that the proceeds of the address would in part go toward the payment of these cans to be placed in and Janesville city for the cleaning up of Janesville. A committee was appointed to look to the buying of the cans at once.

H. L. McNamara made the lowest bid for furnishing the cans, and a limit of twenty cents was set. The cans will be furnished for each can, and when they are filled, they will be put in its place, so as to keep the cans in constant use. Mayor Taylor stated sometime ago that the city would take care of the cans, seeing that they had been filled in order to charge to the civic club. The motion for the purchase of these cans came after Mrs. Richardson's report on "Garbage and Waste," which subject had been assigned to her previous week.

The dental clinic was urged by every member present, as was the Junior Civic League. The latter movement took up a good share of the time in the form of discussion. Miss Florence Palmer gave a brief report of the first junior meeting held a short time ago at the high school, and upon closing she asked the club for ten dollars to pay for one thousand buttons to be worn by the youngsters in promoting their good work. The motion was passed that this small amount be furnished. On Wednesday afternoon at four o'clock a meeting of all children interested in the Junior Civic League, which was called, was held at the city hall. The meeting was on Friday afternoon at the same hour all children residing on the east side of the river will have the opportunity to attend another meeting. Work for the coming summer months will be discussed.

A motion was passed by the club to hold the annual meeting of the organization the first Friday in October, instead of in March. Also a motion was passed to limit the number constituting a quorum to twenty members instead of leaving it as it was or one-fifth of the total membership.

Reports by Miss Helen Welch on the work of the education committee and by Mrs. J. G. Rexford of the welfare committee proved to be most interesting and instructive. The methods whereby the betterment of the club could be reached were discussed. The work accomplished was reported on also. Miss Welch reviewed the three prominent speakers who have visited Janesville within the past six weeks. They were Bishop Quayle, Graham Taylor and Charles M. Sheldon.

A special invitation was given, following a suggestion made, to all other club members in the city, asking that they join the Civic League providing they did not already belong. The desire of the club to raise their membership to five hundred, if such a thing be possible.

Mrs. Daggett, who comes to this city sometime next month, with her study of birds, promises to be a most interesting addition to the club. She will be a small child, all children might attend. Mrs. Daggett comes to Janesville with a national reputation on the subject of birds.

A report of the civic council meeting, given by Miss Mae Hayes, was approved. The paper sent to the Civic League by the Commercial League, and written by A. P. Lovejoy, on "Cleaner Day," was of interest to the committee. It was decided later to committee on the matter of cleaning up the city, and just what methods will be used.

Charles W. Collmann, field organizer of the extension division of Wisconsin University, gave a short talk at the meeting on the subject of "The Extension Work." Useful information was given to the ladies concerning the new courses offered by our own state university through the extension department. Mr. Collmann stated that the extension work runs in full harmony with the high school industrial schools, taking up the work where the night schools leave off. No action or discussion took place at the meeting on Mr. Collmann's talk.

THE PEOPLE BACK HOME

By JESSIE FAKTER.

"I never use sugar on them," said the young woman with the gold-brown hair as she dug out a section of grapefruit daintily.

"This is nothing but cornstarch sweetened, anyway," answered her friend. "I do hope things will be decent. I ordered luncheon here in the railroad station so that we need waste no part of our two precious hours hunting a more delectable spot. Harry's thoughtful business engagement gives me a chance to hear all about this splendid good fortune of yours and Harry's. I was so glad to hear it. Tell me how it happened!"

"First, how am I looking?" asked the wife of the new president of the Firefly Match company.

"Very lovely, indeed. 'Claret' colored clothes always did suit you."

"Never a word about 'I always did like that suit!' You are a dear!" laughed her friend. "You saw it last year. But I gave it so little wear. And this winter I have needed it not at all in California. That was a wonderful trip, dear. So I am wearing it back home bravely—comfortable for the first time in five years."

"It is perfect and I raved about it last year. But you know I am always expecting to see some unusual creation when you telegraph me to meet you on your way to Ridgewood. That town is such a dressy place that no one can blame you. I never go back there. That is the way I solve the problem."

"But your relatives are no longer there," said her guest. "That makes all the difference. I have simply had to go and see mother and dad once a year. If it hadn't been for you to talk to each way for two hours I couldn't have lived through it."

"You see," she went on, "we began all wrong. It was partly mother's training, but she couldn't help that, coming from the southern home, as she did, and living there in Ridgewood. We have always been paying for my dress for Amy's reception or Harry's tuxedo for the Waltons' dinner or something. It has been foolish, of course, for in the city we go to so few full dress affairs. A tailored suit and a few dressy blouses could go almost anywhere I go, so in the city I feel overdressed in my Ridgewood wardrobe."

"The first summer, when we went home, we should have taken a firm stand, but we didn't. We had done the best we could and were glad that summer things cost so little. Then came that elaborate dance of the Kings' at the country club."

"You remember Richard King? Well, so did Harry! He had come into his uncle's money and was living up to it. To think of me having to go to that dance looking less prosperous than Ruth King did almost broke Harry's heart. His wedding clothes were still perfect, but I couldn't wear mine."

"Mother came to the rescue. She sent me to Mme. Gereau, who made my wedding things, with the tale that I could find nobody her equal in the city and had come home for her to make my clothes. So we went to the dance looking wonderful—our status veiled in white chiffon."

"The minute we got home and could do so Harry sent mother a check. We all but starved to do it, but he wouldn't let it go, and he declared that it should never happen again. It didn't. We have managed to go back each year in the style demanded by Ridgewood. I have simply hated the whole thing. Mother has always planned far in advance and has always sent us a list of functions she expected us to attend before we even knew that Harry could get away. They are so hospitable and I do appreciate—"

"It isn't nearly so much that," broke in her cynical friend, "as using you for an excuse to outshine each other in entertaining!"

"There was that side of it," admitted the guest, laughing.

"But you talk as if it were over," said the friend.

"It is. With the death of Mr. Holmes and Harry's election to the presidency and the great increase to our fortunes our worries are over. Not the money side of it. We have been able to stand that part fairly well for two years past. It is the reputation of the thing that has finally rescued us."

"Mother sent us the home papers announcing Harry's ascendancy. Wealth comes to Ridgewood's son. Harry Willet becomes president and chief stockholder of the Firefly Match company. The entire column was fun. It was more than that—it was emancipation. Then mother wrote us to come for father's birthday and not mind getting new clothes!"

"So we started last night on 24 hours' notice. I begged Harry to say that he didn't mind if I didn't have a new outfit. 'Wear any blamed old thing you please,' he said. 'They know now we can afford it, so why worry?' And I don't!"

Warmed-Over Sensation.
The professional fire fighter is too frequently face to face with danger to regard fires in an esthetic light, but the feelings of the amateur with a passion for "running with the machine" occasionally show an epicurean flavor.

While running to a fire in a large town in Massachusetts, one citizen overtook another who was going in the same direction.

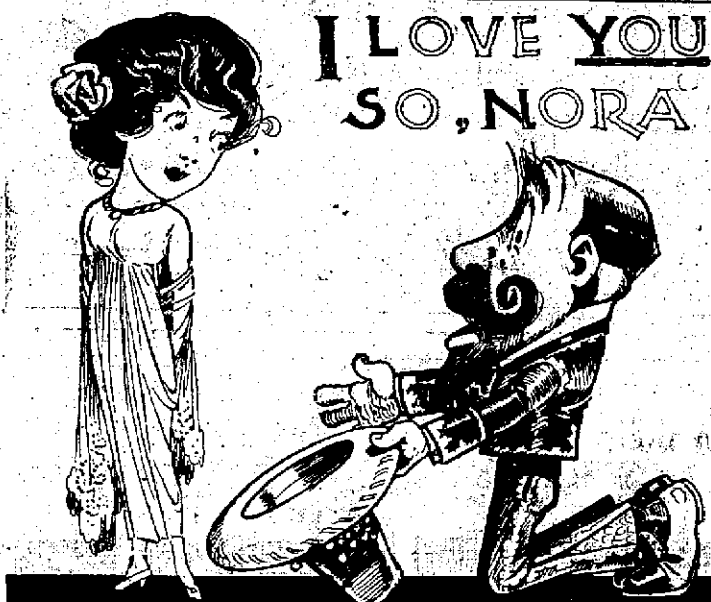

"O dear!" the last gasped, quite out of breath. "I hope it's not the stove-lining works; I've seen that twice already!"—Youth's Companion.

I had sun root beer around at my cousin Artie's house this afternoon. I had a little berry but pretty good, and tonight after supper I was hunting around under the sofa in the setting room for my cap I had of something, saying, 'Gee, what do you think I drank around at Artie's house this afternoon.'

Wat, sed ma.
I give you 3 guesses, I sed.
O, keep to yourself, sed ma.

A hole glass of beer, I sed.
Wat, sed ma.

Wate that, sed pop.
A hole glass of beer, I sed.

Benny, sed ma, don't tell stories. I'm not, I sed, I drank a hole glass of beer, and Artie drank wun, to.

The doose you did, sed pop, wate was yure Ant Gladis at the time.

She was there, I sed, she gave it to us.

Heer, heer, sed pop; that's a littel to much.

Now I no hes telling a story, sed ma. Gladis woodent even touch a drop herself, much less give it to childrin, Benny, wat do you meen by telling yure farthir and me a declibrit falsehood.

I didnt, I sed, I had a hole glass of beer and so did Artie and Ant Gladis gave it to us and she wood of gave us moar, too, if we wuntid it.

Yung man, sed pop, I dont no wate you expect to go wen you die, but jes awn the chance that the recording angel may make a mistake and give you a steeridge tickit to hevvin, I will ask you to follo me now and suffer a littel deserved punishment in the lowir regions, so to speak.

No sir, no sir, I sed, it was only root beer, pop, it was only root beer.

Well for gooniss sake, wy didnt you say so at first, sed ma.

Nobody asked me, I sed.

Well, sed pop, somebody asks you to put that cap back under the sofa, wate it apparantly belawings, for yure going to stay in tonite.

Let them wate, sed pop.

The Original Waterproof Varnish

The first Varnish on the Market to be advertised as waterproof was CHI-NAMEL.

This Varnish owes its unusual water-proof quality as well as its easy flowing and elasticity, to the large proportion of Chinese Oil made possible to use in its manufacture by the special Chi-Nameel method of refining.

This is the oil Chinese people use to make their boats water-proof and to give flexibility to the finish on their bamboo wear.

Brighter, Smarter, Different Than Any That Have Come and Gone Before Are These

Exclusive Models In Women's Suits

Suits are dominating the sales now and in all the many models and materials one may find a suit at any price she wishes to pay. Every one is of unusual value but we are specializing on three prices which we think are the most for the money:

$18.00, $22.50 and $25.00

The materials have wide range. Taffeta, Moire, File, Brocaded Novelties, Crepe, Repps, Worsteds, Honeycomb and many others. There are ruffle and tunic effects on the skirts. The jackets have the kimono and raglan sleeves and are beautifully trimmed about the collar and cuffs. Then of course there are plain tailored suits that ever keep their popularity. If you have any preference as to color, you will find it among these suits. Copenhagen, French Blue, Navy, Green, Black, Tango, Wisteria, Tans, Black and White Checks and Black with hair line stripes.

Every suit is the final word in this season's styles. Some of them are copies of imported garments and all are from the style centers of New York. No two are alike and sizes run from 14 Misses' to 44 Ladies'.

Dresses That Reflect The Season.

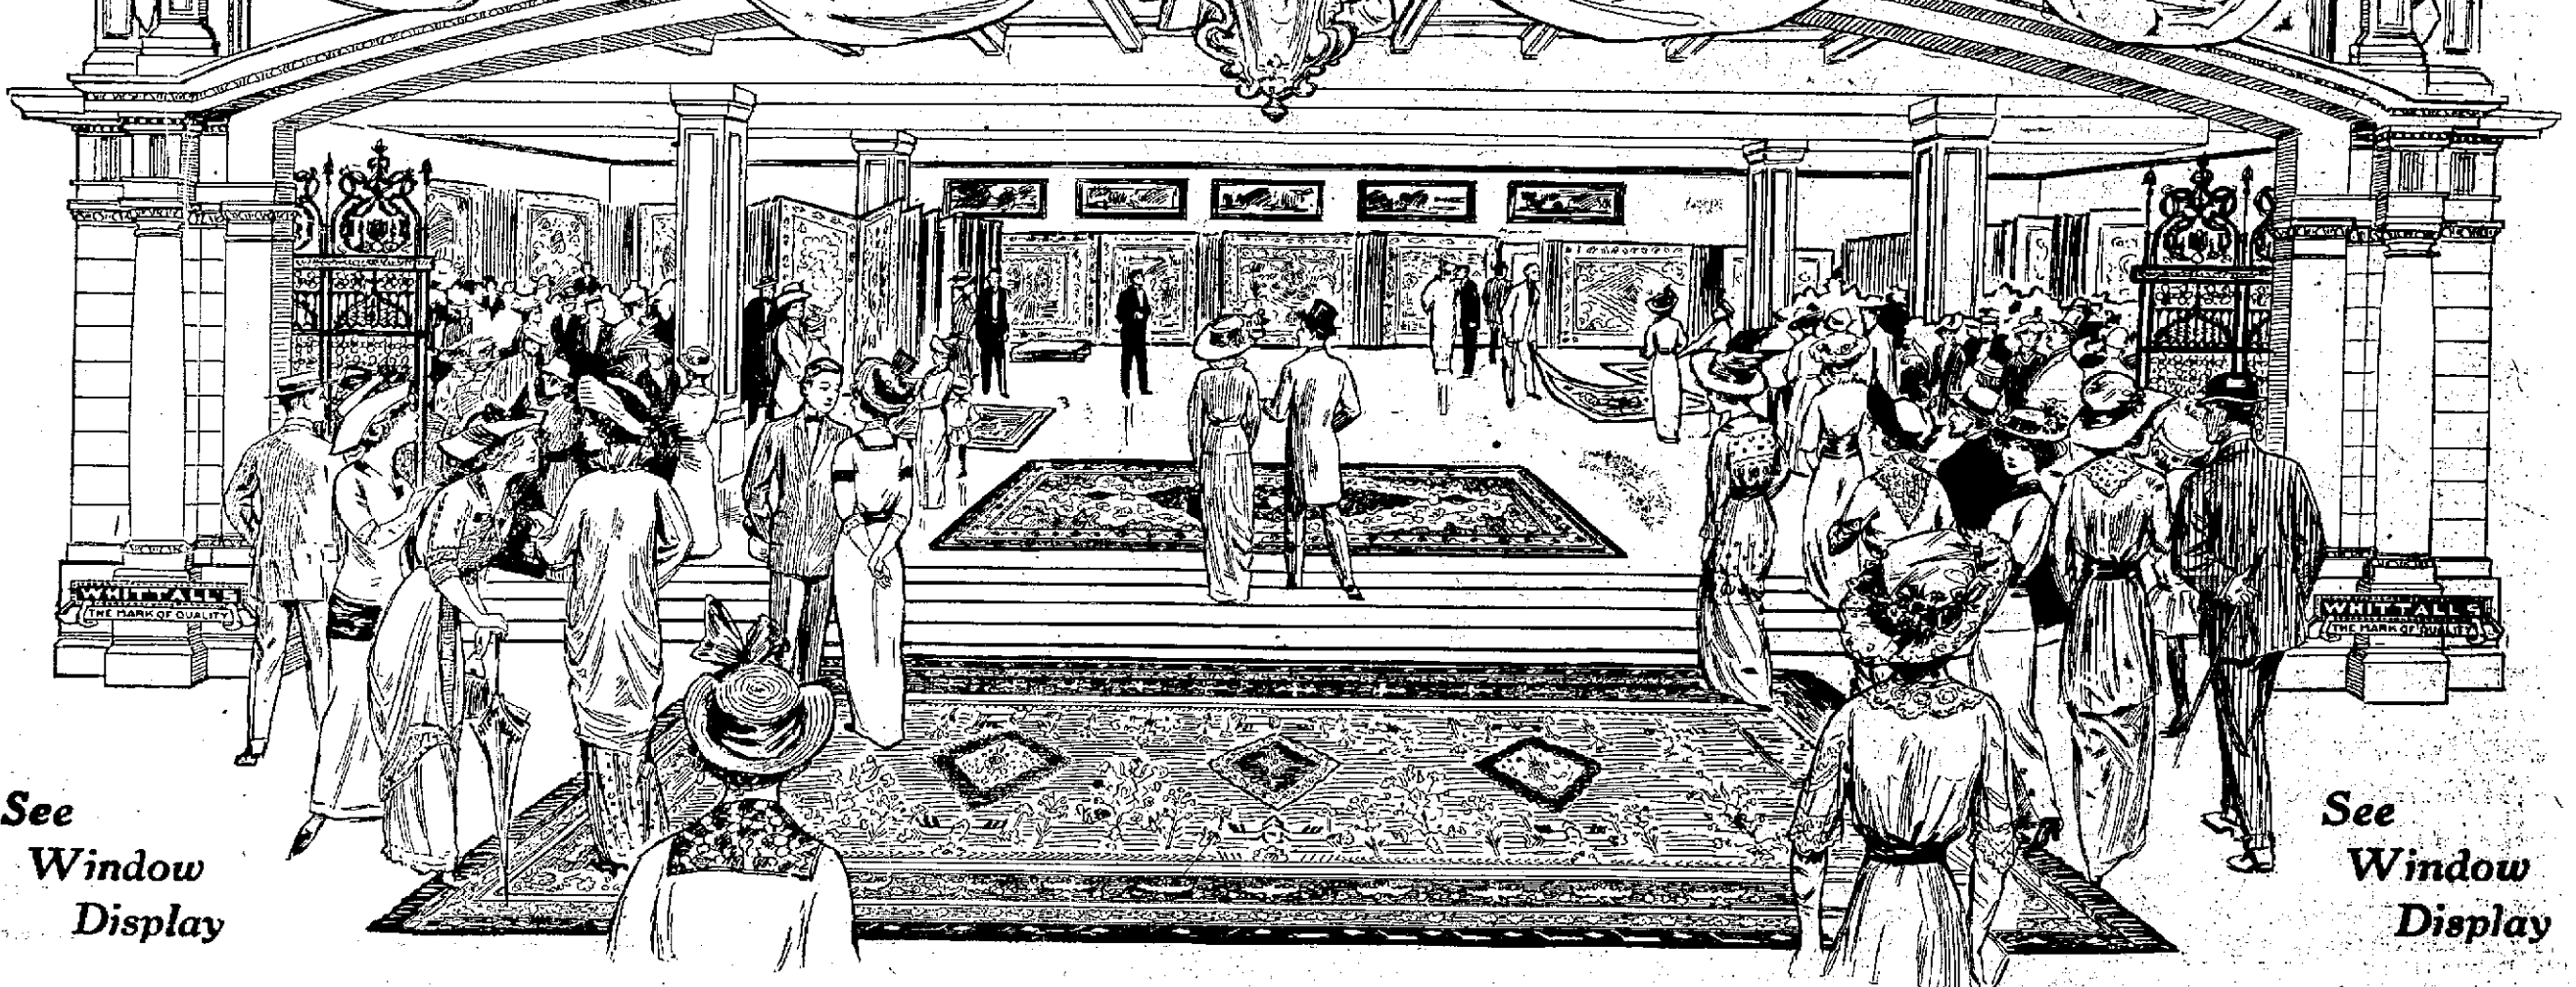

Never have we shown a more beautiful line of street and party dresses than we are displaying right now. Every garment is a creation of beauty and style. Changeable silks in both subdued and startling combinations vie with the others for popular favor.

There are Crepe de Chine, Crepe Poplins, Taffetas, Messalines, Crepe Meteor, Flowered Silks, with double overskirt and single overskirt, ruffles and with many sleeve styles. The decorations and trimmings are in keeping with the dresses and show many new ideas. There are no duplicates, everyone is different and each a marvel of beauty. We have exceptional values in dresses at any price you desire to pay.

The Evening Chit-Chat

BY RUTH CAMERON

A HINT TO SALESWOMEN.

HERE'S one thing I do not understand about saleswomen. But before I speak of it let me recall to my readers' minds the fact that I have often sung the praises, and defended the wrongs of this particular class of workers.

Their patience is a daily marvel to me. What if they ARE some times impatient with the one hundredth customer? Think of the ninety-nine with whom they have been patient. What if they now and then give a careless or rude answer to a customer's inquiry? Think of the ten thousand or so questions they must answer in the course of the day. It makes anyone nervous to answer a perpetual stream of questions. Haven't you noticed how nervous looking the men at the railway information booths always are? A mother who loves her children with all her heart often becomes nervous and impatient when they ask her too many questions. Now the salesgirl does not love her customers, and she probably answers ten times as many questions as the most harassed mother. Isn't it a wonder then that she sometimes loses her temper, but that she controls it so well?

And then her clothes! There was a time when to look shop-girlish was a reproach. I do not see how it can be so any longer, for the average saleswoman in the better class of stores is dressed with just as much style, neatness and taste as most of her customers. How she has the time, money and strength to do it is one of the wonders of the age to me. Furthermore, she is well groomed, she carries herself excellently and she usually speaks well.

If you should take half a dozen representative girls from one of the more expensive shops and mix them up with half a dozen "society ladies," I don't believe anyone could tell which was which, not only on the skin, but on top of it.

I didn't mean to say so much on that subject, but my enthusiasm ran away with me. And now that I've spent most of my space, sugar coating my pill, let me come to the pill itself.

The one thing I can't understand about salesgirls is this. Why so many of them are supercilious when a customer wants to see something less expensive or doesn't buy because a thing costs too much.

THEY must know what it is to have to consider expense. Surely THEY must have had experience in contriving to make a little money produce big results. Then why can't they have sympathy for us poor mortals who have to do the same, instead of pulling out the "something less expensive" with a bored and supercilious air.

Let me give them all a hint from a customer's viewpoint. By such conduct a girl may now and then force her customer to buy from fear of being looked down upon, but she loses more than she gains, for the customer will try to avoid her in the future.

Let the saleswoman add the charm of sympathy to her other virtues and she will come alarmingly near to perfection.

(2) I have a friend a few years older than I am. I love her dearly and she seems to like me pretty much. I show in every possible way that I care very much for her. How can I show her that I care more for her than I do now?

"THANK YOU."

(1) Baths the feet with alcohol or peroxide, wear white cotton stockings and canvas shoes as much as possible. Change stockings at least every day and have two pairs of shoes so that you can change shoes every day. (2) You do not say whether you are a man or a woman, but I presume you are a man. In that case, you can prove that you really love her by asking her to be your wife. That is the only legitimate way that a man can show that he really loves her dearly. If she is just a friend, show your regard by always being considerate of her in every way. She will then rely upon you as her true friend.

THE KITCHEN CABINET

HAT if you have been deceived by a man once but a dozen times? It is much better to be deceived occasionally than to be so distrustful that you cannot even enjoy a bright day because you once got caught in a rainstorm.—Lloyd.

PASTEURIZING MILK.

While there are some objections to pasteurized milk for infants, the advantages of intelligently pasteurized milk where the source of supply is not safe, are very great and the death rate in cities where this milk is sold, has been most wonderfully reduced. The object of this treatment is to kill or render harmless the germs in unclean milk by the application of heat.

Too high a heat used on milk will make it constipating and if really sterilized as would be the case with boiled milk, the properties are so changed as well as the taste that it is not only distasteful to most babies but is constipating to nearly all. Boiled milk is not a suitable food for any one unless there is a constipation needed. Too little heat will not kill germs and so the method which gives the best results is used.

The right heat is from 150 to 165 degrees—some say 155 is the best temperature—keeping the milk at this temperature for 20 to 30 minutes and then quickly cooling it and keeping it cool until needed.

The reprehensible habit of some mothers in keeping milk warm for an indefinite period is most dangerous for the warm milk if not completely sterile (an almost impossible thing) is a fine field in which bacteria may grow. Pasteurized milk should not be used older than two days and any one with a little care may prepare the milk safely.

There is no process of purifying milk from injurious bacteria so good as that of positively clean and healthy milk. Such milk because of the cost of production puts it beyond the reach of the poor and so it seems necessary that each mother should have the knowledge to prepare milk and keep it from danger.

A certain amount of bacteria in milk is necessary for its value and of course by killing bad bacteria the good are also destroyed. Infants fed exclusively on sterile milk are said to lose after a while so that it is necessary to try other milk. A high grade of evaporated milk in emergency as well as condensed milk may be used with good results as most of the brands of good milk are carefully prepared from good clean milk and are considered quite safe.

HERE'S DARING COMBINATION

The attractiveness of this daring gown of black tulle with taffeta trim is accentuated by the Marie Antoinette wig. The snow white of the hair and the pinkness of the shoulders make a remarkable contrast against the black of the gown.

Women Worth While

MADAME HUSSEIN BEY.

By Selene Armstrong Harmon.

A woman of womanly accomplishments is young Madame Hussein Bey. She is the wife of Abdul Hak Hussein Bey, first secretary of the Turkish embassy at Washington, and here is one of the most interesting and attractive personalities in the cosmopolitan society of the capital. Madame Hussein Bey is one of many women from England and America who, within the past twenty years, have been married to Turkish men. Born and reared in London, she was formerly Miss Violet Townsend. She first met Abdul Hussein in her native city, where he was one of the young secretaries of the Turkish embassy. Her marriage to him took place in London, and she saw America for the first time nearly four years ago, when her husband's government ordered him to this country.

Madame Hussein Bey tells you in the beautifully modulated voice of the well-bred English woman how abhorrent to her are the tactics of the militant women of her native country. It is an attitude consistent with a certain charm of femininity which she possesses to an unusual degree. She is an expert with her needle and loves to do the fine hand sewing, which, in our grandmother's day, was part of the education of the gentlewoman.

One of Madame Hussein Bey's chief interests is her love for animals. She has taught her own child to love them, too, and she was one of those interested in the formation of the Animal Rescue League launched in Washington recently by a body of prominent men and women. She has a mezzo soprano voice and plays her own accompaniments.

Little Cynthia Hussein, nine years old, and the only child, inherits her mother's musical gifts. Cynthia is probably the youngest composer in Washington. She has to her credit several musical compositions, one of which, "The Turkish March," is quite oriental in character. Although she has never been in the Orient. Even at this early age the child plays with real musical feeling and without self-consciousness. She is fond of singing and is to cultivate her voice when she grows up. Cynthia has never been sent to school, but she is devoted to reading and delights in juvenile histories and in mythological and fairy tales.

Household Hints

THINGS WORTH KNOWING.

Buttered bread or cracker on which cheese is to be toasted improves the flavor.

By first scalding the milk and setting it aside to cool, a baked or boiled custard will be perfectly smooth. A good mixture to set color in cotton material is one teaspoonful of turpentine, a handful of salt and a pail of cold water.

To keep a partly cut loaf of bread fresh, wrap it carefully in waxed paper and tie with a string, then put in a paper bag before placing it in the bread box.

THE TABLE.

Cream Sauce—One egg, one cup powdered sugar, one-half cup of thick cream, one-quarter cup of milk, one-half teaspoonful of vanilla. Beat the white of the egg until stiff; add the yolk of the egg well beaten, and the sugar gradually; dilute the cream with the milk, beat until stiff, combine the mixtures, and flavor.

Sardine Salad—Remove the skin and the bones from the sardines and mix with an equal quantity of the mashed yolks of hard-boiled eggs. Arrange in nests of lettuce leaves and serve with mayonnaise dressing.

Susie's Spider Corn Cake—One and one-quarter cups of cornmeal, two cups of sour milk, one teaspoonful of soda, one teaspoonful of salt, two eggs, two tablespoonfuls of butter, salt the soda and the cornmeal, gradually add the eggs well beaten and the milk. Heat the frying pan, grease the sides and the bottom of the pan with butter, turn in the mixture, place on the middle grate in a hot oven and cook twenty minutes.

Nut Loaf—One egg, one-half cup of sugar, one-half teaspoonful of salt, one-half cup of milk, one-half cup of butter, one-half cup of flour, one-half cup of raisins, one-half cup of chopped nuts, one-half cup of milk, two and a half cups of flour, two teaspoonfuls of baking powder, one teaspoonful of cinnamon and one-half each of cloves and nutmeg, four eggs, yolks and whites beaten separately. Bake in a loaf about fifty minutes.

Banger Pudding—One and one-third cups of cracker crumbs, boiling water, two cups of milk, one-third cup of molasses, one egg, one cup of raisins. Moisten the cracker crumbs with boiling water and let stand until cool. Add the milk, molasses, egg slightly beaten and raisins seeded and cut in pieces. Turn into a buttered pudding mould and steam eight hours. Let stand in the mould to cool. Serve cold with cream sauce.

Asparagus Omelet—Break four eggs into a bowl and beat until light and foamy. Add four tablespoonfuls of cream, a saltspoonful of salt and a dash of pepper. Have a clean, smooth omelet pan ready and melt a tablespoonful of butter in it, letting it run all over the pan. Add the asparagus as well as the bottom. When hissing hot pour in the egg mixture. As it cooks, prick with a fork in several places to allow the uncooked portion to run under. Lift with a fork until the whole is of a creamy consistency. Have in readiness several spoonfuls of cooked asparagus points mixed with a little melted butter, a few drops of lemon juice and a teaspoonful of chopped parsley. Spread evenly over the top of the omelet, double dexterously, and shake out of a pan on a hot platter.

Orange Fool—Squeeze the juice from half a dozen oranges, strain and beat up with three eggs and a pint of cream. Sweeten to taste, flavor with just a trifle of grated nutmeg and powdered cinnamon, pour into a double boiler or porcelain lined sauce pan and stir over the fire a few moments until thickened. Do not allow it to boil. Pour into a glass dish and chill for at least an hour. Serve very cold.

Heart and Home Problems

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl of fifteen. I have been going with a boy. Last winter he went off to school. He came back two weeks ago and I have not seen him since he came. I love him very much and he loved me, but I can't think he does. Will you please tell me how to win him back? I am going with a boy about me, but I don't care anything for him.

SAD ONE. Your old friend has probably forgotten that he ever told you he loved you. Maybe he's ashamed of it by this time. He has probably grown more interested in things that interest boys. You are only a little girl now, and in a year's time you will have forgotten all about this boy. You are too young to be really in love. So don't be sad and don't worry about any boys for quite a while yet.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: (1) The boys in this village are very bashful. Should we girls help them along? (2) We are fourteen years of age. Are we too young to have boys escort us home from parties, shows, etc. (3) We are both fat. Will you please give us instructions how to get rid of some of it, especially on the hips? D. B. AND L. H.

(1) Girls like to think that boys are bashful when the boys don't.

MRS. M. D. Old ladies look very sweet in dainty boudoir caps. Why not make her one or two pretty ones. They are very fashionable. Or, if you can crochet, make her a little house jacket in delicate colors. Fine hand-made cambric handkerchiefs, with her initials embroidered in them, would probably be acceptable. If you want something more elaborate, a quilted Japanese robe or housecoat would be found delightfully comfortable on cold evenings, or a silk kimono for warmer weather. Whatever you give her, have it very dainty and pretty, for when a woman nears sixty she has a right to wear the daintiest and prettiest of things.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: (1) I have perspiring feet. What can I do for them? I have tried different things but nothing helps.

It is wonderful what Borax will do. Borax is a marvelous aid to Soap. It can be used with soap, wherever soap is used, with surprising results in the way of improved cleanliness. It can also be used in many forms of cleaning where soap is not necessary.

ECZEMA COVERED ENTIRE SCALP

Spread to Body, Limbs, Back and Ears. If Scratched Would Bleed and Smart. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Completely Cured.

R. F. D. No. 2, Sunfield, Mich. — "I was troubled with eczema. It began with a sore on the top of the scalp, broke out as a pimple and grew larger until it was a large red spot with a crust of scab over it. This became larger and larger, spreading to the entire scalp and spreading to different parts of the body, the limbs and back and in the ears. These sores grew larger gradually until some were as large as a quarter of a dollar. They would itch and if scratched they would bleed and smart. The clothing would irritate them at night when it was being removed causing them to itch and smart so I could not sleep. A watery fluid would run from them. My scalp became covered with a scab and when the hair was raised up it would raise this scab; the hair was coming out terribly. My scalp and body itched all the time.

"After using Cuticura Soap and Ointment with two applications we could notice a great difference. My way of using the Cuticura Soap and Ointment was to apply the Ointment to the sores and then wash the scalp with Cuticura Soap. In a month's time I was completely cured." (Signed) Mrs. Bertha Underwood, Jan. 8, 1913.

Cuticura Soap 25c and Cuticura Ointment 50c are sold everywhere. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address—nearest carrier, Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston.

Men who shave and shampoo with Cuticura Soap will find it best for skin and scalp.

AMedical Book Free

By Dr. N. A. Goddard

Modern Methods of treating Chronic Diseases without Operation has just come from the pen of Dr. Goddard the Milwaukee Specialist and is one of the most interesting as well as instructive little books the doctor has ever written.

If you are a sufferer from Appendicitis, Rupture, Gall Stones, Colic, Gout, or Chronic Diseases of a private nature, you should avail yourself of his offer to send you this valuable little book free simply for the asking. A postal will bring it to you, in a plain wrapper. Many so-called surgical diseases have been proven to be curable by medical treatment, more safely and more easily and cheaply by modern medical methods than was believed possible a few years ago.

After you have read this little book, you can consult Dr. Goddard on all monthly visits to Janesville, free of charge and have the satisfaction of knowing that you have secured the expert opinion of a reputable specialist in these matters. If you have been advised to submit to an operation, surely do not fail to consult him before undergoing such an operation. His advice may save you many weeks of suffering, loss of time and expense, possibly your life. Dr. Goddard will be at the Myers Hotel, Janesville, Tuesday, April 21, and makes no charges for a friendly visit. Hours 9 a. m. to 4 p. m.

PHOENIX BIENNIAL SOON TO BE READY FOR PUBLICATION

Volume Containing Happenings At the Janesville High School To Be Distributed by June First.

Students at the Janesville high school are anxiously waiting for the 1914 "Phoenix" to be published. The junior class, under whose supervision the book is being printed, announce that their intentions are to have it ready by June first, at the latest, with a possibility of the volumes going to press before.

The "Phoenix" is a biennial publication, printed every other year by the junior class. The last volume was published in the spring of 1912. When this book was placed among the students, much credit was given the junior class board, who worked with diligence for six months. As the result, the 1912 junior class published the best Phoenix ever put out at the Janesville high school.

The biennial contains the happenings at high school for a period of two years. It had been the custom to publish only the happenings occurring the year the book was circulated, but at the suggestion of the board, the board decided for the two years were put in print for the first time.

The book, which is about to go to the press, will contain notes and stories of the successful 1913 year, when the state basketball title was won, with the football and debating titles. Also this year's events will be published, and with all of this good material to work with, the book should this year even surpass the last volume. Efforts have been put forth by every member of the board, in hopes of printing an ideal book, and one which will make even the surviving colleges sit up and take notice.

Turn the Baby's Tears to Laughter

A Gentle Baby Laxative Will Quickly Relieve the Usual Cause of the Trouble.

WALTER J. KIRCH

It is often difficult to tell just what is the matter with a crying, irascible baby or child, too young to express his feelings in words, but as a general rule the mother will find that there is a tendency to constipation, which has brought on a headache or nervousness. The little one has no pain, but feels "out of sorts."

The first thing to try is a family remedy containing good but mild laxative properties and many mothers will say that their choice would be Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Thousands of mothers keep it in the house for such emergencies, among whom may be mentioned Mrs. John Welch, 1527 Abstract Ave., Pittsburgh, Pa. She has been giving it successfully to little Walter, whose picture we present at three months, when he weighed 14 1/2 pounds. He is a healthy, laughing, white little fellow comes as a Kirch gladly gives Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin credit. It saves many a illness, and many a large doctor's bill, for by administering it promptly when the first symptoms of illness are noticed it prevents a serious ailment.

It is so pleasant-tasting that no child will refuse to take it, and it does not gripe, the child is glad to take it again. A bottle can be obtained of any druggist for fifty cents or one dollar, the latter being the size bought by families, already familiar with its merits. Results are always guaranteed or money will be refunded.

Syrup Pepsin is for all the family from infancy to old age, and because of its mildness families should prefer it over all other remedies. It is absolutely safe and reliable. You will never again give cathartics, pills, salts or such harsh physics, for they are usually unnecessary, and in the case of children, women and elderly people are a great shock to the system, and hence should be avoided.

Families wishing to try a free sample bottle can obtain it postpaid by addressing Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 419 Washington St., Monticello, Ill. A postal card with your name and address on it will do.
